Child Passenger Safety Phone Education

For more than 21 years, one of San Joaquin County Public Health Services' priorities has been the safety of our children. With the recent and ever-changing news of the spread of coronavirus (COVID-19), we know you are coping with a great deal of uncertainty.

But one thing hasn't changed: we have helped thousands of parents secure those they love through our car seat installation help and safety checks, and we will continue do so. We know that parents still need safe and secure car seats in order to transport their children in these hard times.

San Joaquin County Public Health Services is providing car seat safety education by a Certified Child Passenger Safety Technician (CPST) through individual phone education appointments.

Please call us at (209) 468-8914 to set up an appointment with a Child Passenger Safety Technician.
